

Cheap Talk? What you can learn from Psychology

Psychology is the science of human experience and behavior. While some psychological experiments and phenomena have become famous all around the world, laypeople often doubt that research studies are applicable in a real world context. However, Tilburg's psychologists are convinced that they have still something to offer – not only for their colleagues, but also for their students and people outside of their field. And now they will bring it to you!

In our series “Cheap Talk? What you can learn from Psychology”, we welcome some of Tilburg's most exciting researchers to tell you about their research and why their findings are more than artificial reports from the Ivory Tower.

Join the events, dive into the world of psychology and let us and the presenters know what you think.